THE MOTHERS' CLUB OLD GOOD MEETING

Enthusiastic Gathering at The School House Last Monday.
Officers Were Elected

CLEAN-UP DAY ENDORSED

The regular monthly meeting of the Mothers' and Friends' Club
was held at the school house Monday evening, April 12, at 4 o'clock.

The attendance was very good.
Mrs. Jones, the president, in the absence of Mrs. Peterson.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Prof. Peterson.

Minutes of last meeting and also the minutes of the meeting were read and approved.

Committees to amend by-laws reported more time as they had been given to give this important subject the required attention, the time extended.

Mrs. Brucks reported 13 trees donated and $13.50 collected for buying and having them planted.

Mrs. Schmitt reported $11.50 paid for trees and $2.00 on hand of the fund donated.

On motion, a rising vote of thanks
was extended the tree planting committee.

Have planted trees on the north and west.

As they are small and bare,
we hope that many a child
will find shade and pleasure there ought to furnish ice water for the children.

In the long, hot summer day
furnish books and clothing
for the children, who are not able to buy.

On motion was made and carried that
the treasurer pay the bill for the coat purchased by the club for the janitor.
After discussing a proposition by Mrs. Nettie to give a concert under the pines of the club, the same was rejected.

On motion was made and carried that the club launch another clean-up for the month of May. Mrs. Blocker, Mrs. Marlin and Mrs. O. E. Lacy were appointed to work with the Board of Health and report the time for the same, asking for one who could possibly do so to have their own garbage.

Mrs. Schmitt and Miss Lena Stone presented interesting reports of the Fifth annual meeting of the Congress of Mothers in Del Rio. Assuring the club that it was worth while to be represented by a delegate to these important annual meetings.

Mrs. Jones gave a resume of the club's work, which proved that the members of our club felt an interest in all the children of the town and the surrounding country.

All the mothers would join and work
for great things we could do and make the other clubs look around and we would prove what we say is true.

Mrs. Darden will favor us with her report at the next meeting.

April being the time for the election of officers, the following were elected:
Mrs. P. Jungman, Jr., President; Mrs.
J. Brucks, First Vice President;
Mrs. W. A. Schmitt, Second Vice President; Mrs. H. H. Crow, Recording Secretary; Mrs. G. W. Monkhouse, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. D. W.
Peterson, Treasurer.

CONTRIBUTED.

Triple F. Party.

Miss Ethel Gaines entertained the
"Triple F's" Wednesday evening
April 21, to meet a friend (who?) all were wondering why the friend hadn't appeared when a telegram was delivered to the club announcing the marriage of the bride to our President's wedding Thursday morning. A little sift of wishes from each member was presented to the bride. All proclaimed themselves candidates for the wedding, thinking there was some charm
in it.

Excitement reigned in the house of the bride and expelled the usual "42 ones" when the groom arrived on scene to help dispose of the eats, consisting of orange salad, sherbert
and cake.

Those present were: Misses Ida L.
Gaines (bride), Lorine and Jimmie de Matel, Ella Hardt, Marie and Dora
Huffman, Bennie Hurt, Christine Pike, Miss Schuehle, Ruby Locklin, two daughters, Clara and Una Gaines and the groom, last but not least, the groom,
Mr. Albert Peters.

"Clean Up and Paint Up"

All Together for a Better Hometown

Everybody Get
Behind the Broom

Real Campaign Is Taking Place of Old Time "Clean Up"

"ANNUAL BATH" FOR TOWNS
TABOOED.

Five Thousand Communities Will
This Year Join "Clean Up and Paint Up" Movement.

MORE than 5,000 cities and towns will this year participate in "opening weeks" in the National Clean Up and Paint Up campaign, according to Allen W. Clark, chairman of the National "Clean Up and Paint Up" Campaign Bureau, St. Louis. Many of these communities, Clark declares, are thus breaking away from the old-established "clean up" or "annual bath" idea and are striving to make their improvement programs continuous performances.

Files in the bureau's offices, which indicate that the organization has in reality become a national clearing house for the dissemination of community betterment ideas, show that last year more than 2,000 cities and towns made an effort to "clean up and paint up." "This year," commented Chairman Clark, "it looks as though we would co-operate with more than 5,000 communities, in each of which some live civic leader is trying to improve living conditions. Though a majority of these campaigns will start with an 'opening week,' a definite program of activity, we know that the bureau's success has been chiefly due to the fact that we try to get away from the old-fashioned 'annual clean up' idea that has become odious to many civic leaders and an annual joke in many cities. The plans of the bureau call for continuous campaigns that bring permanent results and help form worth while civic habits."

The Work to Be Done.

The work of the bureau this year is more comprehensive than ever before.
Everything that will beautify, preserve, improve sanitation, reduce fire risks, and better health conditions has been carefully provided for. Among the things which local "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaigners are doing this year are: Cleaning the streets and alleys, front yards, back yards, cellars, stables, attics; the removal of ashes
and rubbish; cleaning up vacant lots of rubbish and weeds; eliminating breeding places of flies and mosquitoes; planting and care of trees, hedges and flowers; and the liberal use of paint on everything that needs it.

It is this constructive, permanent nature of the improvements effected that has won the endorsement of national leaders in every branch of civic uplift work. Among those serving this year on the National Bureau's

advisory committee are:

Mrs. Clarence Baxter, Kirksville,
Mo., chairman of the Women's Committee of the National Bureau, is also vice chairman of the civics department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and chairman of the civic and health department of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs. Dr. S. J. Crambine, Topeka, Kan., president of the Association of State and Province Health Officers of North America. H. S. But-tenheim, New York, editor of "The American City." Clinton R. Woodruff, Philadelphia, secretary National Municipal League and editor of the "National Municipal Review." Mrs.
Philip North Moore, St. Louis, ex-president National Federation of Women's Clubs. William Woodhead, San Francisco, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. P. S.
Riddale, Washington, D. C., executive secretary American Forestry Association. Richard B. Watrous, Washington, D. C., secretary American Civic Association. Mrs. Geo. Zimmerman, Fremont, O., chairman of the civics department, General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Paint and Self-Respect.

The one most important factor in spreading the gospel of cleanliness, thrift and civic pride, which the Bureau is trying to do, is the work of newspaper editors throughout the country, asserts Chairman Clark. For instance, here is what Paul Brown, editor of The St. Louis Republic, has to say of the movement:

"Thousands of American cities and towns have taken up the National
'Clean Up and Paint Up' campaign that originated in St. Louis three seasons ago. It has been endorsed by thousands of civic, commercial and women's organizations all over the nation. The cities that have made themselves a part of the movement are cleaner and better cities because of it. The Republic aided in launching the initial campaign and is glad to know that the Federation of Women's Clubs is planning a general
St. Louis campaign for this spring.
This will aid in making 'St. Louis the Healthiest City,' for paint is the great preservative and a powerful aid in sanitation. Add to beauty and economy the fact that paint has a sanitary value, and the arguments apply with added force to the big cities. Naturally the paint dealer profits by such campaigns. None but the pessimist will object to this. He gives value received and more. The house that is painted is the better for it. A neighborhood that has cleaned up and painted up is a better one in which to live. Paint makes for self-respect and justifiable pride."

In the office of the National "Clean Up and Paint Up" Campaign Bureau hangs a room-size wall map, with every state dotted by red stars denoting cities conducting campaigns last year. And so it is true that civic leaders in thousands of towns are working to "get their town on the map" this year.

"Chick" Grant Was on the War Path Saturday Night; One Negro in Bed, One in Jail, "Chick" Out on Bail

In an affray between Granville (better known as "Chick") Grant and Allen Johnson, about 1:00 o'clock last Sunday morning, Johnson received a serious gun-shot wound through the breast. Grant, accompanied by Jesse Anderson, sought out Night Watchman Allen and surrendered.

After Grant surrendered Jesse Anderson concluded it was about time for him to go home and retire for the night, but Watchman Allen was of a different opinion, and on searching Jesse found a pistol, consequently he as well as "Chick" was provided with quarters in the county bastille. On being searched "Chick" was found to be unarmed.

The bullet fired into Johnson passed entirely through the body and lodged just under the skin, from where it was removed by the attending physician.

The bullet penetrated the lungs in its passage, and for awhile it looked as if Johnson's earthly career was about ended, but now he is making a good recovery, and the chances now are that he will soon be enjoying his normal health.

"Chick" had an examined trial Tuesday, and after hearing the testimony
the court held him in a bond of $500 to the grand jury, which he succeeded in giving, with L. E. Heath, X. Wantz and Clarence Ware as sureties, and was liberated.

Jesse Anderson, on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, was given a hearing by the court, and drew a prize package amounting to about $105, and being a little short of ready cash is still occupying his quarters in the bastille.

THE HUDSON SIX COSTS LITTLE FOR UPKEEP

THE care with which a Hudson Six is looked after is your insurance that it will give you permanent satisfaction.

The Hudson is so well designed, and so well built, of such sturdy material,
that it calls for but little care.

The attention needed to keep it in excellent condition at all times is furnished by our Perpetual Service Plan.

There are numerous 1914 and 1915
Hudson Sixes in this community that have not cost their owners ONE CENT
for upkeep expense, save of course gasoline, oil and tires.

This is the reason you see so many Hudsons on the streets. This is why Hudson owners are so well pleased with their cars.

Or, if said voter shall have lost or misplaced said tax receipt, he shall be entitled to vote upon making affidavit before any officer authorized to administer oaths that such tax receipt has been lost. Such affidavit shall be made in writing and left with the judge of the election. If any qualified voter in this State shall have personally paid his poll tax in the county and precinct of his residence, or secured an exemption certificate showing that he is exempt from paying a poll tax, he shall be permitted to vote in the county in which he may be on election day on any proposition which may have been submitted to the voters of the entire State, and for any office to be filled by the voters of the entire State; also for members of either branch of the Legislature and Congress and judicial officials; provided, no voter shall vote for members of either branch of the Legislature, Congress, or judicial officials outside of the legislative, congressional or judicial district of such voter's residence, and nothing herein shall permit a voter to vote at any place other than his residence, if he be within the county of his residence on election day. Any person offering to vote in any county other than the county of his residence shall deliver to the election managers his poll tax receipt or exemption certificate, who shall retain same until the following day, and then mail same to the person depositing same to any address he may name; and in addition to depositing the poll tax receipt or exemption certificate, such person so offering to vote shall make an affidavit:

(1) That he is absent from home, and it will be impossible for him to return to the precinct of his residence in time to vote, (2) that he has not voted at any other election precinct on that day, and will not offer to vote at any other precinct in this State; (3) that he personally paid his poll tax within the time provided by law, or personally secured the certificate of his exemption from the payment of a poll tax.

Sec. 3. Sec. 5. The sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated, to defray the expenses of such proclamation, publication and election.

Section 1. That Section 52, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows, to-wit:

Section 52. The Legislature shall have no power to authorize any county, city, town or other political corporation or subdivision of the State, to lend its credit or to grant public money or thing of value in aid of, or to, any individual, association or corporation whatsoever, or to become a stockholder in such corporation, association or company, provided, however, that under legislative provision any county, any political subdivision of a county, or any defined district now or hereafter to be described and defined within the State of Texas, and which may or may not include towns, villages, or municipal corporations, upon a vote of two-thirds majority of the resident property tax payers voting thereon who are qualified electors of such district or territory to be affected thereby, in addition to all other debts may issue bonds or otherwise lend its credit in any amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property of such district or territory; except that the total bonded indebtedness of any city or town shall never exceed the limits imposed by other provisions of this constitution; and levy and collect such taxes to pay the interest thereon and provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof as the Legislature may authorize, and in such manner as it may authorize the same, for the following purposes, to-wit:

(a) The improvement of rivers, creeks and streams to prevent overflows, and to permit of navigation thereof, or irrigation therefrom, or in aid of such purposes.

(b) The construction and maintenance of pools, lakes, reservoirs, dams, canals and waterways for the purposes of irrigation, drainage or navigation, or in aid thereof.

(c) The construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, gravelled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof.

Provided, however, that under legislative enactment any defined district now or hereafter to be described and defined within the State of Texas, which may be formed for the purpose of reclaiming and improving overflowed and swamp lands in this State, and maintaining the improvements thereof, may, upon a vote of two-thirds majority of the resident property tax payers voting thereon who are qualified electors of such district or territory, in addition to all other debts, issue bonds or otherwise lend its credit in any amount not to exceed fifty per cent of the assessed valuation of the real property in such district or territory.

Provided, further, that where a county, district or other political subdivision has issued bonds for improvements for the purposes named in this section, the Legislature may authorize the levy and collection of taxes for the maintenance of such improvements, not to exceed fifty cents on the hundred dollars valuation in any one year.

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment of Section 52, of Article 3, of the Constitution of Texas, shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this State for its adoption or rejection, at a special election hereby ordered for the fourth Saturday in July, A. D. 1915, the same being the day of said month. All voters on this proposed amendment at said election who favor its adoption shall have printed or written on their ballots the following: "For Amendment of Section 52, of Article 3, of the Constitution, authorizing the issuance of bonds for levee, drainage, road and other improvements, and for taxes therefor." Those voting against its adoption shall have printed or written on their ballots the following: "Against the amendment of Section 52, of Article 3, of the Constitution, authorizing the issuance of bonds for levee, drainage, road and other improvements, and for taxes therefor."

The sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated, to defray the expenses of publishing said proclamation, and printing and distributing the necessary tickets and blanks for use in said election.

Provided the Legislature may establish junior agricultural colleges subsidiary to the Agricultural and Mechanical College and under the control of the Agricultural and Mechanical College Board.

Sec. 13. Of the land heretofore set apart to the University and to the State of Texas, and remaining unsold, there are hereby transferred to and made a part of the permanent fund of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas six hundred thousand acres of land of average value; there are hereby transferred as a permanent fund to the Prairie View State Normal and Industrial College one hundred and fifty thousand acres of land of average value; and all of the remainder of the said land shall constitute a part of the permanent fund of the University of Texas. The Legislature shall provide for the division of the land as specified herein. The land herein set apart to the University, the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and the Prairie View State Normal and Industrial College may be sold under such regulations, at such times and on such terms as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall provide for the prompt collection at maturity of all debts due on account of the sale of said lands, and in no event shall any relief be granted to any purchaser.

Sec. 14. All lands and other property heretofore granted or herein granted to the Agricultural and Mechanical College, together with the proceeds of the sale of such lands, shall constitute its permanent fund. All the income derived therefrom shall be the available fund and shall be applied to the support and development of the Agricultural and Mechanical College and to meet its obligations. Sec. 15. The College of Industrial Arts for White Girls located at Denton, in Denton County, Texas, is hereby established and recognized as an independent college, and the Legislature shall provide for its organization, maintenance, development and permanent improvement and shall make, by appropriation and otherwise, such provision in addition to that heretofore made as may be necessary for the establishment and maintenance of a first class college, for the education of white girls in the literary branches, the arts and sciences and the practical industries of the age. The college shall have its own governing board, which shall designate the officers of administration and instruction, and other employees, determine their salaries, establish departments, subdivisions, libraries and laboratories and other agencies of education consistent with the objects of the college and perform such other duties as the Legislature may prescribe.

JUDGING AN AUTOMOBILE VALUE

As the automobile industry has progressed, and as some owners have learned the distressing circumstances that usually follow the purchase of an automobile that has no standing from a manufacturing point of view, we sometimes wonder why the average prospective buyer does not give the question of the merit and reputation of an automobile more serious attention before he makes a selection. Ever since the beginning of the automobile business new cars have flashed on the horizon and have very promptly dropped out of sight. The announcements by the manufacturers have always been full of promises and from an advertising point of view many of these cars have made a hit, but they have never accomplished the advertised purposes, and in failing leave the purchaser absolutely helpless when it comes to obtaining repair parts, service, etc.

This should be one of the strongest arguments to your prospects, for, since Buick was put on the market it has naturally grown and profited each year, increasing its production as well as the number of its satisfied owners, and today Buick is recognized as the highest-class motor-car investment you can make.

Below is a list of ninety-seven cars (and there are probably more) that during the last few years were at some time or other very prominently known and widely advertised throughout the country, all of which are, however, at this time "orphans" in the automobile industry, the manufacturers having gone out of business for some of the various reasons given above:

Atlas, Ampex, Anco, American, Acme, Aero, Allen-Kingston, American-Mors, Anchor, Anhut, Brush, Blomstrom, Babcock, Badger, Breeze, Barnes, Benham, Bergdoll, Berkshire, Black Crow, Cutting, Cameron, Columbia, Corbin, Carhartt, Clark-Carter, Cino, Coates-Goshen, Dearborn-Detroit, Demot, Dragon, Detamble, Deluxe, Everett, Elmore, Edwards, Fuller, Fal Car, Firestone-Columbus, Gaeth, Great Western, Great Smith, Holsman, Halladay, Havers, Herreshoff, Henry 40, Johnson, Knox, Lion, Lozier, Michigan, Mason, Midland, Marquette, Matheson, Meteor, Metropoli, Middleby, Northern, Nyberg, Ohio, Only, Orient, Palmer-Singer, Pierce-Racine, Pittsburg-Six, Parry, Pope-Hartsford, Pope-Tribune, Pope-Toledo, Pennsylvania, Petrel, Queen, R. Kindness.

(By John Boyle O'Reilly.)

"What is the real good?"
I asked in musing mood.
Order, said the law court;
Knowledge, said the school;
Truth, said the wise man;
Pleasure, said the fool;
Love, said the maiden;
Beauty, said the page;
Freedom, said the dreamer;
Home, said the sage;
Fame, said the soldier;
Equity, the seer.
Spoke my heart full sadly,
"The answer is not here."
Then, within my bosom,
Softly this I heard:
"Each heart holds the secret—Kindness is the word."

ONE of the principal pleasures gleaned from life as a newspaper man is that of being able to daily peruse his exchanges. We are missing that pleasure now and find ourself losing that personal touch with our co-workers in this line which we felt when more actively engaged in the office.

A WOMAN'S HEAD is level and her judgment good when she puts her faith in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. There is no beauty without good health. No body expects to become really beautiful from the use of complexion beautifiers. Bright eyes, clear skin, and rosy cheeks, follow the use of the "Prescription."

All women require a tonic and nerve at some period of their lives. Whether suffering from nervousness, dizziness, faintness, displacement, catarrhal inflammation, bearing-down sensations, or general debility, the "Prescription" is sure to benefit.

Mrs. JULIA A. Doss, of Paris, Texas, says: "I was in bad health, with neuralgia and nervous spells, and tried several kinds of medicine but got no relief until I took 'Favorite Prescription.' I found that it did me more good than anything I ever took. It cured me."

MUSIC AND DIAMOND

Or the Story of John Robinson's Whirlwind Courtship.

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

When John Robinson courted Madge Atwell he did so with such whirlwind force that the girl was swept completely from her feet. She had consented to marry him and had accepted the most exquisite solitaire to complete the engagement.

Robinson possessed wealth and social standing, while Madge owned a splendid voice but scarcely the money with which to have it cultivated. She only regretted her poverty because it withheld certain branches of study from her which, in the dark hours of the night, Madge's soul longed for. Never did she let the world know her desires because the world might fling either pity or scorn at her, and Madge was proud—too proud to accept help or condemnation.

When Robinson came into her life Madge not only found herself strongly attracted to him, but she realized also that his money would put her before the best instructors the world afforded. She was not in any way mercenary, but she was thankful that love and the chance for advancement had come hand in hand. She could not be really happy until she had won fame for herself, and she loved love the more because it offered her her opportunity to succeed more quickly than when hampered by poverty.

She had been engaged to Robinson for two joyous weeks. A particularly trying day lay behind her and she greeted her fiancé with a tired but happy smile.

"I will be glad when you have given up all this nerve-racking study," John Robinson said. "You are tiring yourself out, and I wish you would marry me straight off, so that I could command you to give up your feverish desire for music." He had spoken laughingly, but Madge had felt a rush of cold blood through her veins.

"I never intend to stop studying," she said quickly. "Nothing in the world would make me happy without my music. I intend to be a singer. I thought you knew that," she added and gazed wonderingly at him.

"I have always considered it a joke," Robinson told her, and would have drawn her into his arms to dismiss the subject, but Madge eluded him. "If you mean that," she said with firm voice, "I may as well tell you I will never marry you."

Robinson grew a shade white. "I have no desire to have my wife singing in public and perhaps being away from me just at the time I want her most. You will have plenty to do entertaining and managing for me. Come—don't be silly—I will do everything I can to make you forget your desire for a career."

"No one could do that," Madge said, and shook her head slowly. "It is too deeply rooted in my life dreams. No," she repeated, "I want my music more than I want you—under the conditions." She drew the beautiful diamond from her finger.

Robinson's eyes flashed. His quick anger frightened Madge.

"Don't give me back that bauble," he said roughly. "It's no good to me, and I would only toss it into the street." He flung himself out of the room while Madge watched him with a feeling akin to relief.

When he had gone she fell to wondering why she was so little affected by the smashing up of her first love affair. With firmly set lips she put the ring into her bureau drawer and shut the romance from her life.

The following day she discovered upon looking at her bank book that her account was perilously near to tottering. It was then that Madge wept bitterly. She knew that the piano she had rented for $3 a month must go. She could not afford it longer. That $3 would be needed for bread and butter.

When she had finished weeping she was white and her eyes shone brilliantly. She could not live without a piano.

Out of the depths of her misery came the realization of the ring lying in her drawer. It was a perfectly useless jewel that meant nothing to her and the price of which would buy her a splendid piano! A friend of hers had once sold a piece of jewelry for a set of furs and Madge saw no reason why she could not exchange her ring in the same way.

The advertisement she put in the paper the next day was eagerly read by one Jimmy Ganes. Jimmy was intending to propose to Nelly Waite, but did not feel that even Nelly was worth going into debt for and she was the kind of girl who would prize an engagement ring. Jimmy could not spend a couple of hundred dollars just at that moment, but he could sacrifice his piano. Nelly was not in the least fond of music, and much as Jimmy regretted the fact he felt that she had other good qualities.

He sighed with unconscious wistfulness. Jimmy had always pictured a golden haired woman sitting at his rosewood piano with a soft light on her upturned face while she sang to him and soothed away all worries of the day. Alas for dreams! Jimmy's piano was to be a thing of the past. He hoped that the fellow who wanted it would take care of it. Jimmy supposed the person who had advertised was perhaps some man whose girl had jilted him and given back his ring.

Since he felt more or less anxious to get the proposal over and his future settled, Jimmy went to the address mentioned in the advertisement.

As he climbed the stairs in a Bohemian part of the city, he paused to listen to the voice that penetrated into the halls from one of the rooms. It was a voice rich in timbre and one that set Jimmy's music-loving heart to beating excitedly. He hardly breathed while the girl finished her song and not until he felt that she was not going to sing again did he continue his search for the number he wanted.

Madge answered the door and Jimmy's lately excited heart jumped suddenly into action again. Nelly was a person of the past and dim ages when he beheld Madge. At least, in the unexpected meeting he forgot Nelly.

"I have come in answer to this," he told Madge and held out the advertisement.

"Oh, I am so glad! Do come in," she opened the door and Jimmy stepped into the poor little room that Madge called home. He fell to wondering immediately what story lay behind her in connection with the ring she wanted to dispose of.

Madge was not long in enlightening him. Her story was simple and she told it in a frank manner that put Jimmy in complete possession of her true character. That her charm of manner, together with her wonderful voice, would place her in an exalted position of fame was a self-evident fact. He sighed and pondered on the possibility of a great singer becoming interested in a mere business man. He thought the chances were few. However, the glance Madge turned full upon him was not altogether without some expression that made Jimmy hope.

"I will make the piano like thunder," he said. "Do you think I might come up some evenings and sit in a corner while you practice?"

Madge laughed mischievously. "Will the ring and its recipient not afford you sufficient amusement?" she asked.

"No, they won't," Jimmy told her frankly, while he watched a rose bloom in Madge's cheeks. "I have decided not to propose to the girl who doesn't love music—not yet at least."

"Then you are not going to make the exchange?" Madge cried in quick disappointment.

"Oh, yes," Jimmy said, "I want to make the exchange all right, but I am not sure what I will do with the ring." He looked rather anxiously into Madge's eyes and again Madge laughed. "I might in turn exchange it for a couple of nice big chairs."

"A couple?" he questioned Madge. "You should get at least four for that ring."

"Anything you say," he laughed back at her, and turned serious eyes upon her. "You are going to let me come and hear you sing," he added, "aren't you?"

Madge hesitated but a second, then realizing what the outcome of the meeting was going to be, said quickly, "Yes, as often as you like."

Jimmy smiled happily and in his heart thanked Robinson for disliking public singing, and later when she was Jimmy's wife Madge too thanked him, for she might never have met Jimmy had Robinson loved music.

Justice to Wilkes.

Detraction for a long time obscured the merits of Rear Admiral Wilkes, U. S. N., the Antarctic explorer of 1840. He was charged with imagining a good deal of what he saw, mapping the coast line inaccurately, and with discovering a continent where none existed. But every honest explorer who has followed in the tracks of Wilkes has borne testimony to the value of his pioneer work.

Now comes the heroic Sir Douglas Mawson, the Australian explorer, with a new tribute to the American. With some exceptions, possibly due to the effect of mirage, Wilkes, he says, mapped the Antarctic coast line correctly. Posterity is coming round to the view that the American sailor, in spite of his meager resources, was one of the greatest explorers that ever penetrated the Antarctic circle.

WHEN THE TIRED MOTHER GIVES OUT

What Then?—The Family Sufferers, the Poor Mothers Suffer—Mrs. Becker Meets This Distressing Situation.

Collinsville, Ill.—"I suffered from a nervous break-down and terrible headaches, and was tired all over, totally worn out and too discouraged to enjoy life, but as I had four in family and sometimes eight or nine boarders, I kept on working despite my suffering.

"I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it, and within two weeks I noticed a decided improvement in my condition and now I am a well woman."

—Mrs. ANA BECKER, Collinsville, Ill.

There are hundreds of nervous, run-down, overworked women in this vicinity who are hardly able to drag around and who we are sure would be wonderfully benefited by Vinol as Mrs. Becker was. The reason Vinol is so successful in building up health and strength in such cases is because it combines the medicinal tissue building and curative elements of cod's livers together with the blood making, strengthening properties of tonic iron. We ask every weak, nervous, run-down man or woman in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to benefit.

Made My Life Worth Living

"I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me," writes Mrs. L. Dunlap of Oak Grove, Mich. "I have suffered with pains in my back and under my shoulder blade for a number of years, also with a poor appetite and constipation. I tried all of the remedies that I heard of, and a number of doctors, but got no relief. Finally a friend told me to try Chamberlain's Tablets and Liver Stomach and Bile Tablets. I got a bottle of them and they soon helped my stomach; by their gentle action my bowels became more regular. Today I feel like praising them to all who suffer as I did, for they have cured me and made my life worth living."

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhoea Remedy

THIS is unquestionably the successful medicine in all bowel complaints, and it is the recognized standard over a large part of the civilized world. Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. It may save life. PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

Neglected wounds produce old sores and these in time develop ulcers which eat away the vitality.

Ballard's Snow Liniment

Is a Healing Remedy for All Ailments of the Flesh of Man and Beast.

The speed with which this splendid Liniment heals up a bad wound or sore has surprised and pleased those who were accustomed to the slower and uncertain effect of less powerful remedies. It mends the lacerated flesh so quickly that there is but little time lost from work. In relieving rheumatic pains, neuralgia, sciatica, it has done a wonderful work. Many chronic victims of these diseases have found to their great satisfaction that it cures an attack in a fraction of the time required by the ordinary treatment.

It is equally effective in the flesh ailments of animals. Owners of blooded stock value it highly for two reasons: It heals sores and wounds quickly, and leaves no disgusting scars.

This remedy is needed in every home. If its great power and efficacy was generally known, no family would be without it.

Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per Bottle.

YOUR attention is respectfully called to an important point not generally known, that a laxative should have a tonic element to successfully meet constipation.

Mr. John B. Capers, of 616 Pecan St., Fort Worth, Texas, had a significant experience in this particular. He was afflicted with a severe case of constipation and bowel trouble. He spent a good deal of money in trying to find a remedy. To his astonishment, Peruna very quickly relieved him of his bad symptoms.

This happened a number of years ago. Since then, Mr. Capers states that he has had similar attacks of trouble, the prominent symptom of which is constipation, and has always found prompt and efficient relief from Peruna. He says: "Up to the time I started using your Peruna I could drink castor oil like water. It did no good. As for salts, they were of no use. Physic of all kinds and classes were used, but we had to call on the fountain syringe for help." Peruna was able to correct this condition completely in Mr. Capers' case, and there is every reason to believe that it was the tonic qualities of Peruna, added to the laxative qualities, that procured this very desirable result.

Duval Farmers Organize.

San Diego, Tex., April 17.—A large and enthusiastic audience of Duval county citizens were addressed here Thursday night by Mrs. E. M. Barrett and Fletcher Davis, field agents of the Department of Agriculture. Mrs. Barrett dealt with home economic and domestic science and agricultural education in the public schools, and urged a better spirit of community co-operation.

Mr. Davis dealt with agricultural topics. He said that Duval county has many agricultural possibilities and that so long as there are counties where farmers have to conserve the moisture for two years to produce a crop, there is no use for Duval county, with its 22 inches annual rainfall, despairing of becoming a prosperous farming section. He explained the elementary principles of dry farming and urged organization and co-operation in meeting and solving the problems confronting the community.

After the speaking an institute of about seventy-five members was organized and S. Blankenship elected president. N. A. Hoffman vice-president; Miss Mary Ball secretary; and Haynes Dix, entomologist.

A new spirit of co-operation and progress is taking possession of the people of San Diego and a modern agricultural department and domestic science department in the public schools are among the improvements that the near future will see achieved.—San Antonio Express.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

Live up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful; make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. But take no nasty, dangerous calomel because it makes you sick and you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into your bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 25-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working; headache and dizziness gone; stomach will be sweet and bowels regular.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of Calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

Those present were the family, a few intimate friends and the Triple F. Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peters left on the morning train for Houston, their future home, amid showers of rice and good wishes.

A Favorite of the Stage Visits Favorites of the Screen

KATHERINE EMMET CALLS ON BABY HELEN BADGLEY AND LELAND BENHAM AT THANHOUSER-MUTUAL STUDIOS.

Katherine Emmet, known the country over for her splendid work in stage drama and comedy, never had been in a motion picture studio until a few days ago. Then she visited the Thanhouser-Mutual plant in New Rochelle to call on "Baby Helen" Badgley, most famous of screen children, and Leland Benham, a child actor of more than passing note.

When Miss Emmet entered the studio she found the children working under the direction of Carroll Fleming. He instantly availed himself of Miss Emmet's presence and impressed her for a scene with the kiddies. The scene was inspirational and, as it turned out, is one of the prettiest in the "homey" little drama.

Leland, in the play, was reading from a technical magazine to Helen, and they were having rather a hard time of it trying to understand what the words meant. "You sit down there, will you, Miss Emmet," said Fleming, "and act as interpreter."

The picture shows how thoroughly Miss Emmet interested the kiddies. Helen Badgley's look of rapt attention remained fastened on Miss Emmet for the rest of the afternoon, and Leland, too, kept his eyes following the charming actress wherever she went in the studio.
